ALL persons are hereby discharged from taking assignment on a bond given by the subscriber to Valturn Nicols of Washington County State of Pennsylvania, conditioned for the payment of one hundred pounds current money of said State, it being in part pay of a tract of land situated lying and being in the county and state aforesaid which land I purchased of the said Nicholas, but finding he could not make me a sufficient title did in the year 1783 publicly forewarn all persons from having any concerns with said bond; he likewise told the land in my absence to another person; this I have certified by sufficient evidences, under the Seal of said county.

James Littell,
Bourbon, June 12, 1790.

JOHN HAMILTON ROPE MAKER

Respectfully informs the public, that he has erected a rope walk at Mr. Francis Dill's about two miles from Lexington, where he carries on the rope making business, in different branches. Any gentleman may be furnished with any kind of cordage (except tarred) or twine on the most reasonable terms. He flatters himself, that from his skill in the art, and attention to business, together with the quality of his manufactures, will sufficiently recommend him to the attention of the public.

ALL those indebted to William Morton & Co. either by bond, note, or book account, are requested to make immediate payment to James McConnel who is legally authorized to transact their business. Those who neglect this notice, need not expect any further indulgence.

Lexington, July 15 1790.

TEGARDEN & McCULLOUGH,

Respectfully informs their customers, and the public in general, that as they are obliged to leave the district on the fifteenth instant, and will be absent a few months, that due attendance will be given at their store in Lexington by Mr. Archibald Huston, who is hereby authorized to transact the business during their absence.

LEXINGTON, August 2.

On Friday the 23d ult capt M'Curdie in a boat with 20 men passing from fort Washington to Limestone, was fired on by about 20 Indians, he had one man killed and four wounded; the troops on board returned the fire with a briskness that repelled the enemy; the Indians lay concealed in the Willows, and when the boat came opposite them and within a few yards, began the fire. The Captain behaved with great coolness, and bravery, on this occasion, which occasioned the enemy to retreat immediately to the woods for shelter.

On Monday the 26th four men from Madison county, who had been up the Kentucky river, were fired on just as they got into the inhabitants; by about 30 Indians, 3 of the men were killed and the other wounded; the Indians were pursued by a party immediately.

We are just now informed, that yesterday morning, about sunrise, a duel was fought in Danville, between capt. Strong and Mr. Craig, in which capt. Strong was mortally wounded; the ball entered his right groin and passed out just below his left hip; Mr. Craig is wounded through the right thigh; Mr. Craig's pistol fired first, and capt. Strong was not sensible of his wound until he attempted to go forward, to raise up Mr. Craig who fell, when he himself fainted and fell also.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE second day of August next the Subscriber intends to open an Academy at Maj. George Blackburn's; where young Gentlemen may be instructed in Greek and Latin and the Sciences.—The price of Boarding and washing will be eight pounds per annum; that of tuition six pounds to be paid half yearly, in cattle of the female kind. The Subscriber conscious that whatever has the least tendency to self-applause, is generally, not unenjoyable; but, however, as he is a stranger to many respectable Gentlemen of Kentucky, on this occasion, he presumes it will not be deemed improper to say, that as a scholar he, not only, has credentials from the most eminent for literature and teaching in the English nation;—but also from some of the first characters in this State with whom he has had the honor to be intimate for several years since he arrived in America.

Robert Stubbs.
P. S. From his unremitting attention to, and approved methods of teaching, he flatters himself that he will give ample satisfaction to those gentlemen, who may please to honor him with the tuition of their sons.
July 26, 1790.

R. S.
* * * Said Stubbs will offer generous and advantageous terms to eight or ten families, who would undertake to settle, clear and improve land for him on the above York of Shiloh.

WHEREAS the dwelling house of H. Atterton situated on Mr. Merediths military survey between cane run and N. Elk-horn was feloniously broke open and entered; and the lock of a walnut tree chest therein broke open and the chest itself split into several pieces between the hours of 8 o'clock in the morning and 3 in the evening of our last Fayette Court day by some person or persons unknown and whereas all persons belonging to the house and plantation had left it and gone to court or elsewhere except one man who had undertaken to take care of the plantation in the absence of the others, but who says he left it within a few hours, and staid away three days and two nights, I therefore all well disposed persons are requested to give information to some justice of the peace of this county of any person or persons having been seen in or near the said house where the above felony was committed, on the last Fayette court day to that he or they may be brought to conviction.

And a reward of five pounds will be paid to any accomplice in the above crime who will appear before some justice of the peace of the county of Fayette, and give evidence against the others concerned with him to that one or more of them may be brought to conviction for the above offence.

A large company will meet at the Crab Orchard the 9th of August in order to start early the next morning through the Wilderness.

A PETITION will be presented to the next general Assembly of Virginia to pass an Act, empowering certain persons, to lay and collect taxes from the inhabitants of the town of Lexington, for the purposes of keeping the streets &c. in repair and for other purposes respecting the police of said town.
